PROJECT MANAGEMENT

COMMUNICATIONS

14-16 June 2021, The African Leadership Centre, Quatre Bornes,

Mauritius

Team SYNthesis (Mauritius & Africa) Ltd is pleased to invite you to attend an intensive Project Communications Management Masterclass on 6 - 8 July 2020 at The African Leadership Centre, 4A Hitchcock Avenue, Quatre Bornes.

Communications takes up 80-90% of a manager's time. The most common faux pas is very embarrassingly miscommunications. If the science of progress is achieving the desired business outcome, then the art of delivery must therefore be marshalling the people harmoniously forward. Courage is what it takes to stand up and speak; courage is also what it takes to sit down and listen, Winston Churchill.

Specifically, project-related communications, be they verbal or written, emphasize facts and numbers rather than emotions and feelings. Educators take something simple and make it complicated. Communicators take something complicated and make it simple. The most important thing in communication is hearing what isn't said, Peter Drucker.

Project Communications Management (Project CM) is a new approach to analyze communication competence of project situations, develop effective communication means, manage all information flow within and outside of the project. This new direction of applied communication can create innovative forms for identification and resolving communication problems in the most challenging of projects, and also prevent from various information conflicts from exploding into complicated crisis situations. Consequently, the program/project team is focused on gainful activities, hence overall productivity, efficiency & morale increases. Who you are is speaking so loudly that I can't hear what you're saying, Ralph Waldo Emerson.

No matter how clearly we have articulated matters, people may misread, misinterpret and misunderstand. What can a program/project manager do? The Project CM Masterclass examines the reasons why despite expectations, outcomes and duties being clearly defined, a program/project could wildly fail as communications is not always as simple as receiving and sending messages correctly. A successful project manager MUST be a great communicator! What is correct may not be right underpinning the frightening difference between knowledge and wisdom, the lack of phronesis!

Why Attend the Project Communications Masterclass

Constant, effective communication among all project stakeholders ranks high among the factors leading to the success of a project. It is a key prerequisite of getting the right things done in the right way. Learn how successful Project Managers achieved the impossible feat of being there for everyone, being in touch with the real challenges of the project, understanding the real issues within the team who must deliver the project as well as understanding the issues of the sponsors/stakeholders who the team delivers the project for. Being present, visible and engaged with everyone is IMPOR-TANT, during the good times and the challenging times. As George Shaw puts it solicitously, the single biggest problem in communication is the illusion that it has taken place.
