

Industry 4.0 – The Future of Textile Manufacturing

Francois WOO, GOSK

Group Managing Director & Avant-garde Entrepreneur
Compagnie Mauricienne de Textile Ltée

Mr François WOO SHING HAI is an avant-garde entrepreneur and visionary leader, who co-founded Compagnie Mauricienne de Textile Ltée (CMT) in 1986. His enviable perspicacity has shaped, nurtured and culminated the company in one of the leading jerseywear suppliers in the world. Headquartered in Mauritius with design and marketing offices in the UK and France, CMT specialises in fast-fashion ready-to-wear for international high-street retailers in Europe and the USA.

With the largest vertically-integrated manufacturing plant in the sub-Saharan region, CMT – renowned for its world-class facilities and state-of-the-art investment – has been spearheading its nextgen automation in the Industry 4.0 era.

With simple and humble ideals, CMT has progressed from 30 employees to 18,000 employees in eleven different units in Mauritius, Bangladesh and Madagascar. CMT is now the world's leader in the fast-fashion niche industry.

Textile Manufacturing 4.0 Expert, Textile Strategy Thought Leader, Avant-garde Entrepreneur (3-country)

4.0 Leadership
Surviving the Industry 4.0 New Frontiers