

INDUSTRY 5.0/SDG IMPLEMENTATION VIA HUMAN TECHNOLOGY

Nathaniel DIONG is an award-winning startup advisor, board director and CEO of Future Minds Network. Named as 2021 Young Australian of the Year finalist, Nathaniel has coached C-level executives and startups globally, including at Australia's leading venture capital firm - Blackbird Ventures. He has supported them to reimagine million-dollar strategic decisions, revolutionise brand positioning, and secure ground-breaking partnerships with giants like Microsoft.

In 2022, Nathaniel was named as one of Asia's most influential entrepreneurs, in the Forbes 30 under 30 list. Because beyond executive coaching, he helps C-levels with a crucial step: training their next-gen talent pipeline, Gen Z.

His startup Future Minds Network has taught tens of thousands. GenZ-ers learn through building their own business and develop crucial innovation skills. With these skills, some are running 3D-printing businesses, leading impactful charities, and many have become thriving intrapreneurs. Future Minds helps companies unlock innovation in existing teams, recruit new diverse employees, and accelerate their workforce's adaptability to the Future of Work.

$$i50 = e^{(\text{Change}) (\text{Time})}$$

Nathaniel DIONG

CEO & Visionary
Future Minds Network

Digitalization & Digital Transformation Expert, 2021
Young Australian of the Year, 2021 PMI's 'Future 50' Global Leaders)

5.0 Leadership

REIMAGINING & RETHINKING Innovative Sustainable Development